[WRITTEN FOR THE YOLO DEMOCRAT.]

ANACREONTIC.

Another night, and I have pressed
My lonely couch, but not to rest;
Have clasped my hands above my heart
To still each wild tumultuous start;
Have pressed my head—but all in vain,
I could not ease or heart or brain.
And why, alas, this depth of woe?
What thoughts torment my slumber so?
Is it for wrong that I have wrought
In word or deed, in act or thought?
Doth conscience prick like pointed steel?—
Ah no; a keener pang I feel!
No, no—by all the powers above,
Keener by far the pangs of love;
And I have proved its keenest pain,
Since he I love comes not again.
No more I feel his ardent kiss—
No more my soul dissolves in bliss—
No more I feel his warm embrace,
For vacant is my lover's place.
Nor could another e'er inspire
My thoughts with love, my soul with fire.
Then since for him alone my flame,
Nor joy I in another's name,
What portion shall relieve my breast
Or ease my mind with grief oppressed?
What spell recall the wanderer home,
From its loved precincts ne'er to roam?
What charm the false one's love recall
And hold him henceforth in its thrall?
Ye heavenly powers, whom I implore,
My lord, my truant lord, restore
To these fond arms, this faithful heart,
Which will not bear to beat apart,
And I will bind him in love's chain
So strong he ne'er shall stray again.

EUSEBIA A. MEZGER.

Antelope, October, 1870.

A GRIM JOKE.—The San Joaquin Republican says: The Administration at Washington perpetrated a grim, ghostly, sepulchral joke, when it dispatched a message to the faithful announcing that Grant felt satisfied with the result of the late elections in Ohio, Pennsylvania and Indiana. We have heard of men who gave themselves up to levity even unto the moment when the rope was placed around their necks, but this grim jocularity of the Radical managers surpasses even that. "The barefooted boy" regards these elections as an endorsement of his administration! This is the most striking instance of mirthful sadness the chroniclers of history were ever called upon to record. In Pennsylvania, the Radical party suffers a disastrous defeat, and the Democrats elect a majority of Congressmen. This is called an endorsement of the Administration. In Ohio, the Radical majority of last year is greatly reduced and the Democrats have a gain in Congressmen. Yet Grant is satisfied with the result. Indiana gives a Democratic majority of probably 6,000 against a Radical majority of 900 last year. The Radical State Legislature is broken up, and the Democrats have a clean working majority. This is indorsing the Administration with a vengeace. The little boy whistled very loud while passing the graveyard, but he was scared nevertheless.

INCIDENT OF THE WAR.—The Vicksburg Herald says: "In the blooming, beautiful, balmy May of 1863, one of those dreadful battle-stained years never to be forgotten, General Tighlman fell, shot dead at the battle of Champion Hill, gallantly struggling in defense of cherished principles. His noble life ebbed away upon the spot where he fell, and the sad earth drank his blood with greedy thirstiness. But upon that immediate spot grew a peach tree that reached maturity, while its roots steeped themselves in the martyr's blood. Singular to relate, the leaves and fruit of this tree are a blood red color. The tree was transplanted and is now in the orchard of Dr. J. L. Hoborn, of this county. The propagations from the same are also of the same peculiar color. There is certainly something remarkable about this. We have seen the leaves, and must confess that they do look, and even (to us) smell like blood. The fact can be witnessed by those who take the trouble."

PERFECT COFFEE.—A correspondent of the Independent, traveling in Sweden, was immensely delighted with the coffee served on the steamboats and at the hotels. "At Upsala," he writes, "we determined to find out how they made such perfect coffee as we had just drank, and stepped into the neat kitchen of the hotel, and this was the report: Take any kind of coffee-pot or urn, and suspend a bag, made of heavy flannel, so long that it reaches the bottom, put in it the fresh ground coffee, and then pour on fresh boiled water. The fluid filters through the bag, and may be used at once; it needs no settling and retains all its aroma. The advantage of this over the ordinary filter is its economy, as the coffee stands and soaks out the strength, instead of merely letting the water pass through it. 'Do you boil it?' inquired the learner, 'Na-a-y,' said the maid, in simple astonishment. 'As soon would one think of throwing away that drop of sunshine which lies at the throat of a bottle of Johannisberger.'"

A CURIOUS RACE.—Nevada City, Mo., (not California) has a curiosity in the shape of a boy brought from Mexico, by a gentleman of that place, who is well formed in every respect except his feet, which consist of only two long toes, the great and small toe. The foot is cleft from the ankle, and forms the separate toes, each toe about six inches long. The joints of the toes, appear stiff from walking on them. The toes and foot of which there is nothing but a heel, resemble the thumb and fore-finger of the hand, both toes of the same length, and he can grip a piece of coin or paper with the ends of them somewhat as a crawfish would. He is very pleasant and intelligent. The gentleman with him says his whole family, father, mother, brothers and sisters, are all formed the same way, and they claimed to belong to a tribe in Central Mexico, whose feet are all formed the same way.

THE GREAT PUBLIC DEBT.—Somebody who seems to be tolerably expert with figures has cyphered up that our national debt stretches ten times round the earth, and reaches as high as the moon. Here is the way he figures it: "Each greenback dollar bill is seven inches in length. Place two thousand millions of them in a line and it will be 250,000 miles long! It is 25,000 miles round the earth. The public debt would, therefore, make a band of greenback dollars that would encircle the earth more than ten times. It is 240,000 miles to the moon. If this is so, our debt would make a rope of greenback dollars long enough to cable the moon to the earth and have over 10,000 to spare.

THE UNCONSCIOUS CONFESSION.

"Hurry up gentlemen! the coach is waiting," cried the voice of the stage driver in front of the Metropolitan Hotel at Long Branch.

My story goes back to the days when railroads to the Branch were as yet unknown, and when the transit to New York was achieved by coaches that ran toward Sandy Hook, where a steamer awaited the passengers.

A tall, handsome young man, at the summons, came down the stair-case, two steps at a time, and almost ran over a matronly woman a few years his senior, who was crossing the hall.

"What! Going to leave us?" said the lady in some surprise, and with more meaning in her look than in her words even.

"Yes! It's no use," was the reply. "Thanks for your good wishes, which I can see in your looks, Mrs. Maxwell. But I'm tired of playing the fool."

"Pshaw!" said the lady, linking her arm familiarly into his, and leading him into the drawing room, which at that hour was deserted. "Faint heart never won fair lady, Mr. Hastings. Listen to me. The coach will wait a moment."

"It's not a question of faint heart," answered the gentleman. "But Kate won't have me. See here, Mrs. Maxwell—it's hardly fair of you to corner me—but she refused me point blank, last night."

"And what if she did? I refused Mr. Maxwell the first time myself. It's a way some of our sex have. Come, stay and try again."

"I'm a proud man," was the reply. "and don't like being trifled with. But I'd stay if I thought it would do any good. But it won't. She is not anywhere about you see, though I told her I would go away to-day. When I said it she actually laughed. And yet, confound her, I can't help loving her."

Mrs. Maxwell would like to have laughed also. But she knew better than to do so just yet.

"She was a little hysterical, or she wouldn't have laughed," she said. "The truth is, Herbert, you are a pair of fools. You are proud, as you say, and don't brook refusals. Kate is perhaps a bit of a flirt, but I sincerely believe that she loves you. All she needs is a little urging. You must storm the fortress till it surrenders. Give her no quarter, that is my advice;" and now Mrs. Maxwell, seeing his face brighten, ventured a laugh.

It was a clear, musical laugh, and it cheered Herbert still more. He hesitated. If another five minutes could have been granted Mrs. Maxwell, she would have prevailed. But at that moment a voice cried:

"Here he is. Hurry up, Hastings. We've been looking for you everywhere. The stage driver says he won't wait another moment. Ah! Mrs. Maxwell. Our holiday is over, you see. Good-by.

That interruption decided Herbert. He shook his head in reply to Mrs. Maxwell's imploring look, wrung her hand, and—dashed out of the drawing room. The next moment the crowded coach was rolling heavily through the sand, with the surf thundering on its right.

It was six miles, or so, to the steamboat landing. For the first two miles the passengers, all of whom were gentlemen, chattered gaily; after that they gradually grew silent, the monotonous drag of the wheels in the sand acting as a kind of soporific. One or two, in fact, fell asleep. And now Herbert began to half repent of what he had done.

"Perhaps I have been too hasty," he said to himself. "What if Mrs. Maxwell is right?"

He mused thus for quite a half a mile; "I've a great mind to go back," he thought. "Hold on, driver," he said. "I've changed my mind. Stop till I get out. I'll walk back."

Before his sleepy companions could ask what he meant, he had left the coach, and lit a cigar, and was plodding through the heavy sands on his return.

His mood soon changed again. "What a precious fool I am making of myself," he reflected, and he turned to hail the coach, but it was a quarter of a mile off.

He stopped still: "If that fish-hawk dives before I count fifty," he said, "I'll go back to the Metropolitan; if not, I'll walk to the landing and take the afternoon boat."

The fish-hawk dove almost immediately.

"Fate has decided for me," he said desperately. "Now let us see how wisely."

Meantime where was the offending Kate. To do her justice, she was not aware how much she loved Hastings until she refused him. It was not altogether coquetry that led her to say "no." The answer had been given in the first surprise and embarrassment of the proposal. She was frightened to find, almost immediately, but how much she misunderstood herself. She grew more and more embarrassed in consequence; and her manner afterward, at which Hastings took such offence, was as Mrs. Maxwell had suggested, really the result of nervousness. Even before he left her she bitterly repented what she had said. Had he persevered a little longer, she would have confessed the truth. She did not think he would leave the Branch even after he had said so. Hence, early in the morning she had started for a walk on the beach, hoping to meet him there, as usual, for hardly a day had passed within the last fortnight that these two had not met.

There was an old wreck, at that time about a mile or more above the Metropolitan, which had been a favorite haunt of theirs, and thither she repaired. She tried to read till Herbert should appear, but her thoughts wandered from her book continually. Meantime the hours passed without Herbert appearing. Her heart began to fail her. She spent the time examining her real feelings, and the more she scrutinized them, the more she felt her lover had gone from her forever. She knew how proud Hastings was, and she said to herself that he would never come back.

The sea rolled heavily in; the fish-hawks sailed overhead; the breezes blew fresh from the eastward; the sun shone dazzling bright. It was getting towards noon. She gave up all hope at last, and rising, began to walk back toward the hotel. But after a while she sat down on a boulder, under shelter of the bank, for she had been all this time upon the beach below it. She would not yet abandon the chance of seeing him. Gradually she fell into a sort of reverie, and began, half unconsciously, to trace Herbert's name in the sand with the point of her parasol.

It was at this juncture that Herbert, walking along the top of the bank above, discerned her. He had already passed her, and would not have seen her at all but that his attention was suddenly directed to a fish-hawk that diving for a victim, had gone sailing off northward with its prey. His heart began to beat fast. Here was the chance he had wished, yet not dared to hope for; it surely was a favorable sign that she had gone to the usual rendesvous. He hurriedly sprang down the bank, and began retracing his steps towards her.

He thought she would hear him as he approached; but she did not. She was evidently too absorbed; in what, however, he could not yet discover. He came nearer and nearer. But with the roar of the surf and her absorption, Kate remained unconscious of his presence. He approached so close at last, that he could look over her shoulder. Blessed vision! Could he believe his eyes? She was writing with her parasol, in the sand, the word—

HERBERT.

His first impulse was to snatch her to his arms. He was loved then! Mrs. Maxwell had been right.

But he restrained himself, waiting, with bated breath, to see what she would do next.

She did nothing for a moment, then she sighed, and went on tracing slowly other words. They were, HERBERT, I LOVE YOU.

Hastings could control himself no longer. His cegar had long been out, though retained mechanically. He now flung it away, and stooping over, caught Kate's face in his hands, and kissed her full on her ripe lips.

"She sprang up with a half scream, and turned to face him angrily, for she did not realize for a moment who it was. But, when she recognized her lover, she blushed over throat, cheek and brow even; she hid her pretty face with both her hands, and would have run away if Herbert had not been too quick for her.

"Darling," he whispered, clasping her in his arms, and drawing her to him, "God bless you for those words! I had come to try my fate once more. Say that dear confession over again."

Kate was silent for a while. But his earnestness soon dried her tears, and made her forget her momentary shame.

By and by she looked up saucily, and auswered:

"Well, listeners, they say, never heard good of themselves, and if I'm such a flirt as Mrs. Maxwell tells me I am, you havn't much of a bargain. There, will that do?"

"Then you do love me?" insisted Herbert, eager to hear, in her own sweet accents the acknowledgement.

Kate's eyes were now full of mischief.

"What is written on the sand, you know is the simile for a woman's fickleness."

But even as she spoke, her eyes lost their saucy look, and gazed at him with such love that Herbert took her in his arms and kissed her repeatedly; and I am afraid, if the truth must be told, that Kate after a while, kissed him in return.

What a happy hour it was that followed! The lovers passed up and down the strand, far out of sight of any intruders, exchanged confessions as to the time when they began to be interested in each other.

Ah! that first hour of mutually acknowledged affection. Is there any thing in life, ever, half so blissful?

Mrs. Maxwell happened to be standing on the piazza of the hotel, as Hastings and Kate returned, toward dinner time, arm-in-arm. She understood all at a glance, but could not forbear a little raillery.

"Ah! you're back again, Mr. Hastings. I thought you'd such imperative business in New York, that, if you didn't get there to day, the world would come to an end. And you, Kate my dear—you said you had a dreadful headache. Will walking in the sun cure it child? Bless me, how red your cheeks are! Really you must use some glycerine. Do you know what glycerine is, Mr. Hastings? You really don't! Well, well, you'll find out now soon enough."

Kate stayed to hear no more of this badinage. Taking her arm hastily from Herbert's, though not without a last look of love, she fled up the staircase like a frightened deer.

Mrs. Maxwell laughed softly, and watched Kate till she was out of sight. Then she turned to Hastings.

"I congratulate you," she said, pressing his hand warmly. "You've won a real treasure. So much, too, for taking an old woman's advice."

"I wish all old women as you call them, were as beautiful and kind as one I know," answered Herbert, gallantly kissing her hand.

"But how did it all come about?"

"Ah! that's my secret," answered Herbert.

And to this day he has never betrayed Kate. Only he and she know in what way she made her UNCONSCIOUS CONFESSION.

THE RECENT ELECTIONS.—The Alta claims that by the recent elections in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana, the representation in Congress will stand as at present, so far as the relative strength of the parties is concerned. Where it gets its statistics we do not know. Our exchanges show no such result. The World of the 15th, referring to the recent election, says: "New York cannot possibly fall behind Pennsylvania and the West. We have redeemed Indiana, electing a Democratic State ticket and a Democratic Legislature. We have defeated the most prominent Radical members of Congress in Ohio, gained several Democratic members from Pennsylvania, and secured four thousand Democratic majority in the latter State on the popular vote." Perhaps the Alta means that some of the defeated candidates of the Radicals intend to contest the seats of their successful opponents; and this will be equivalent to being elected, for Radicals care nothing for the voice of the people, except when it is in their favor.—Examiner.

A YOUNG ARTIST.—The Little Corporal tells this story: "At one of our neighbor's houses was a very bright little girl. It chanced once that they had as a guest a minister, an esteemed friend. Little Anna watched him closely, and finally sat down behind him, and began to draw on her slate. "What are you drawing, Anna?" asked the clergyman. "Ise making your picture," answered the child. So the gentleman sat quite still, and she worked very earnestly for a while; then stopped, compared her work with the original, and shook her head. "I don't like it much," she said. "'Tain't a great deal like you. I dess I'll put a tail to it, and tall it a dog." Fancy his feelings.

The Two Financial Policies.

The Cincinnati Gazette and the Cincinnati Times, both Republican, admit that the five-twenty bonds are payable in greenbacks. That is the Democratic doctrine; and the Democratic policy is to pay them off in greenbacks. Why not? Why should these bonds not be paid according to the contract between the Government and the purchasers of the bonds? Why does General Grant's Secretary of the Treasury pay eleven hundred dollars in greenbacks for bonds, when he should justly pay but ten hundred?

The policy of the Administration is to pay the bonds off in gold, when they are payable in greenbacks, thereby adding to the wealth of the bondholders. The bonds pay no taxes, neither Federal, State or Municipal, yet the Washington Administration enhances their value by paying ten per cent. premium for them, when they should be taken at par. It is made a source of congratulation by the Administration stumpers and presses that Grant has paid off one hundred and seventy millions of the public debt. In paying that amount, seventeen million of it and is the cost of the Radical over the Democratic policy, and would have paid one hundred and eighty-seven millions of the debt instead of one hundred and seventy millions.

And, had the Democrats been in power, five hundred millions of the public debt would, by this time, have been discharged, instead of only one hundred and seventy millions, and without any greater taxation of the people than they have been subjected to during the present Administration. That a large majority of the people are favorable to the Democratic financial policy we entertain no doubt whatever, and nothing but unreflecting partyism prevents one-half the Republicans from openly espousing the Democratic side.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

NO RAILROAD NEGOTIATIONS.—The Bulletin thus disposes of the sensational story of the closeting together of the Directors of the California Pacific and Central Pacific Railroads, for the pursose of negotiating a sale of the Vallejo road to the latter company: We are informed from an official source, that the Directors of the California Pacific Railroad have never held a meeting to consider any proposition looking to a sale of that road to the Central Pacific. No negotiations are pending, nor are any contemplated. The meeting of the Directors of the California Pacific yesterday was for the purpose of putting the track in winter order from Knight's Ferry to Marysville. Improvements are continually going on in order to put the track in good order and to shorten the time. the Directors are satisfied with the operation of the road, and the patronage bestowed by the public. Having a profitable road, with a patronage that is constantly increasing, they are disposed to let well enough alone, and give their attention wholly to the management of the road. It happened that on the day the Directors of the latter road met, there were also several of the Directors of the Central Pacific in the city; which coincidence confirmed the impression that negotiations of some sort were in progress. It is now certain that the Directors of the two railroads can be in the city at the same time without selling or buying a railroad every time there is such a chance meeting.

CULTIVATION OF RAMIE.—Under the head of new advertisements, to-day, says the Alameda Gazette of the 8th instant, will be found Mr. Graham's announcement, that he will have Ramie cuttings to sell as soon as the season for planting arrives. This is the first advertisement of the kind that has ever appeared in this State, but it will not be the last or only one. The cultivation of Ramie will become one of the great industries of this State. We yesterday visited Mr. Graham's nursery, and a finer, healthier growth of vegetation we never saw. The fine condition of this nursery and the fact that it was set out as late as from the 25th to the 30th of March last establish the fact beyond controversy that the Ramie is at home in California. Cumbrous machinery, expensive processes for the cleansing and breaking of the fibre has been the draw-back to the profitable culture and manufacture of Ramie. This impediment has been overcome. Light, cheap machinery has been constructed for "breaking" and inexpensive processes discovered for refining, which will at an early day bring Ramie into general use throughout the world.

SUTTER COUNTY.—The following is from the Banner of Saturday:

The statistics in relation to this county show that the value of the real estate, improvements and personal property in the county aggregate the sum of $2,406,295. If this property has been given in or assessed at one-half of its true value, as is often the case, the average to every voter of the county is over $3,000. The number of acres cultivated this year exceeds that of last by some eight or ten thousand, and the amount of wheat sown in 1870 is in excess of that of last year nearly 5,000 acres. These facts, without entering into further particulars, show that the county is in a flourishing condition, and that it is increasing in wealth with sufficient rapidity, if not in population. The showing, taken as a whole, appears to us extremely flattering.

VALUE OF ADVERTISING.—We find the following in an exchange:

"My success is owing to my liberality in advertising."—Bonner.

"He who invests one dollar in business should invest one dollar in advertising."—A. T. Sewart.

"Constant and persistent advertising is a sure prelude to wealth.—Stephen Girard.

"I advertised my productions and made money."—Nicholas Longworth.

"Advertising has furnished me with a competence."—Amos Lawrence.

A TRIBUTE TO LEE.—The London Standard, of October 6th, contains an article written in anticipation of the death of General Lee, in view of the attack of paralysis, by which he was prostrated. It contains the following tribute to the renowned Virginian: "A country which has given birth to such a man as Robert Lee may look the proudest nation, in the most chivalric period of the history of Europe, fearlessly in the face. For no race has in any age produced a nobler soldier, Christian gentleman and man, than the heroic Virginia captain."

Bottom of the Atlantic.

The soundings which were made between Ireland and Newfoundland before laying the Atlantic cable have made the bottom of the Atlantic almost as well known as the surface of Europe or America. It is covered with a fine mud, the remains of microscopic insects, which will one day harden into chalk. Of the inequalities of this ocean bottom Prof. Huxley says:

It is a prodigious plain, one of the widest and most even plains in the world. If the sea were drained off, you might drive a wagon all the way from Valentia, on the west coast of Ireland, to Trinity Bay in Newfoundland. And except one sharp incline about two hundred miles from Valentia, I am not quite sure that it would ever be necessary to put the skid on; so gentle are the ascents and descents upon that long route.

From Valentia the road would lie down hill for about two hundred miles, to the point at which the bottom is now covered by seventeen hundred fathoms of sea water. Then would come the central plain, more than one hundred miles wide, the inequalities of the surface which would hardly be perceptible, though the depth of the water upon it varies from ten thousand to fifteen thousand feet; and there are places in which Mont Blanc might be sunk without showing its peak above water. Beyond this, the ascent on the American side commences and gradually leads, for about three hundred miles, to the Newfoundland shore.

CENSUS OF COLUSA COUNTY.—The Colusa Sun publishes the following statistics of that county for 1869: Houses, 1,283; families, 1,196; inhabitants, 6,093; real estate, $5,403,274; personal estate, $3,294,794; voters, 2,025; farms, 428, valued at $4,287,337; deaths, 46; horses, 6,402; milch cows, 2,604; cattle, 19,554; hogs, 33,592; sheep, 175,953; improved land, 206,625 acres; wood land, 28,135 acres; other unimproved, 278,853 acres; farming implements and machinery, $128,923; wages paid, $374,755; mules and asses, 648; working oxen, 10 yoke; value of live stock, $6,762,138; wheat, 893,347 bushels; oats, 480 do.; barley, 337,567 do.; tobacco, 1,000 lbs; wool, 1,109,976 lbs; peas and beans, 88 bushels; Irish potatoes, 1523 do.; sweet potatoes, 384 do.; orchard products, $9,410; butter, 31,307 lbs; cheese, 500 lbs; milk sold, 36 gallons; hay, 10,301 tons, molasses 3 galls; wax 200 lbs; honey, 2,443 lbs; forest products, $54,524; home manufactures, $500; slaughtered animals, $557,276; value of farm productions, $1,846,260; town and city libraries, 50 vols.; libraries of Courts, 200 vols.; Church libraries, (pastors) 150; Sabbath-school do., 500, circulating do., (sub) 50; private do., including those of lawyers and clergymen, 2,000; average wages to farm hand per month, hired by the year and boarded, $30; average wages of day laborers, without board, $3; with board, $2; average payment to a carpenter per day, without board, $4; average wages to a female domestic per week, without board, $12; average price of board to a laboring man per week, $5.

OLD JUDGE B——, of New Hampshire, was what Artemus Ward would have called a "sociable cuss" of the bench, and was noted for claiming acquaintance with any one whose appearance happened to please him. Entering a crowded car on the Boston and Maine railroad one day, his Honor found the only unocupied seat to be by the side of a smartly dressed and rather good looking young woman. Ascertaining that the seat was not engaged, the Judge settled himself comfortably in it, and turning with his accustomed bland, fatherly smile to his fair companion, said: "Your face seems familiar to me, my dear; I think I must know you." "I should think you might," said the unknown, in a hoarse whisky contralto voice, turning a vindictive pair of eyes on the astonished Judge. "I should think you might; you sent me to the House of Correction for three months, last Winter, you infernal old scoundrel." The Judge did not press his claim for acquaintance any further in that quarter

WASTE OF LUMBER.—According to the report of the United States Department of Agriculture, such is the wholesale destruction of our American forests, that unless immediate measures are adopted to supply their plantations, there will be an actual famine for wood in this country within thirty years. This is a startling conclusion to arrive at, but actual figures bear out the statement. It is estimated that from 1850 to 1860 fifty million acres of new land were brought under cultivation, two-fifths of which were timber land, and that in the present decade no less than a hundred millions, will be so reclaimed. If the present demand continues, in twenty years our increased population will need $200,000,000 worth of sawed lumber annually. No account is taken in this loss of a great source of material wealth, of the injury to life, industry, and commerce, from the change of climatic influences resulting from the destruction of our forests.

CALIFORNIA CLIMATE.—A Chicago paper remarks that the California coast may yet be selected in preferance to any other part of the world as a resort for consumptives, the more southern portion of that State surpassing in respect to the two essentials—equable temperature and dry air—the Riviera or the Island of Madeira. The extremes of temperature in January and July and the rainfall in three localities are thus stated: Mentone, 40 and 73 degrees temperature, with 23 inches rainfall; Funchal, 60 and 70 degrees, with 30 inches; San Diego, 51 and 72 degrees, with only 10 inches rainfall. If these facts can be generally made known, and the inference as to the suitableness of the climate be correct, that which is worth to invalids more than all her gold may be found on our Pacific shore.

WOODLAND, CAL:

Saturday, October 29th, 1870.

ILLNESS OF A JUDGE. — Justice Sprague, of the Supreme Court, is lying seriously ill at his residence in Sacramento.

CAPITAL CONVENTION.—A National Capital Convention, whose object is to cause the removal of the Capital from Washington, is in session at Cincinnati.

VALLEJO IMPORTING DIRECT.—Vallejo merchants have commenced importing goods direct from the East, thereby placing themselves independent of San Francisco.

NOT AN ASPIRANT.—Wm. Watt, whose name has been mentioned as a probable candidate for the Governorship of California announces that he is not ambitious in that direction.

WEST VIRGINIA.—West Virginia on Thursday elected State officers and Congressmen. Two years ago the vote stood, for Stevenson, Republican, 26,935; for Camden, Democrat, 22,218, making a Republican majority of 4,717.

FEARFUL CARNAGE.—The German losses up to this date are estimated by German authorities at about sixty thousand killed and wounded, twenty thousand to thirty thousand sick, and nine hundred to one thousand prisoners.

BLOOD WILL TELL.—The Columbus (O.) Crisis says: 'A son of Hon. Geo. H. Pendleton, who has been pursuing his studies in Europe for several years, has volunteered in the foreign legion, and is now serving in the defense of Paris.

SULPHUR.—Operations on the sulphur bank, in Lake county, have been re-commenced, and it is the determination to send forward 500 tons this season. All the products of the mine are forwarded by team and railroad to Vallejo.

WOMAN AND THE BALLOT.—Some facetious individual says that the giving of the ballot to woman would not amount to much, for none of them would admit that they were old enough to vote until they were too old to take any interest in politics.

L. P. FISHER'S ADVERTISERS' GUIDE. This work has just been issued from the press. It contains a large amount of information that is useful to every person, as it gives sketches of every considerable town on the Pacific Coast. Retail price fifty cents per copy.

VALUABLE DISCOVERY.—A coal mine has been discovered on the Suscol Ranch, near Vallejo, which promises well. A Company has incorporated for working it. If this proves to be a good mine it will be of greater value to its owners and to this entire region, than a gold mine.

METZ TAKEN.—A telegram dated Berlin, October 27th, says: — "The King' telegraphs to the Queen this morning that Bazaine and Metz have capitulated with 150,000 prisoners, including 20,000 sick and wounded. The army and garrison laid down their arms this afternoon."

MARINE DISASTERS.—As tidings of recent disasters at sea, caused by the terrible gale of a few days ago, come to hand the list of lost vessels increases. We have already a record of sixteen wrecks on the Florida Coast, including New Orleans and New York. The steamer Mariposa is probably a total loss.

SAN FRANCISCO CENSUS.—The San Francisco papers have published the returns of the United States Census Marshal for that city. The population is 150,361. There are 25,266 houses, 2,603 of them being vacant. Of the population 137,401 are whites; 11,817 are Chinese; 1,094 negroes, and 49 Indians. Of the whites, 36,565 are minors, born in California.

"HONEST" MORTON.—The New York Herald, speaking of the Indiana election, and the probability of a Democratic triumph, says: "Senator Morton, to prevent such a victory to the Democracy, came to this city a few weeks since, and succeeded in securing fifteen thousand dollars, the greater part of which was raised in the Custom House, to be invested in the recent canvass."

THE GREAT LOTTERY.—The wheels for drawing the lottery have been placed in the Pavilion, and arrangements are now all completed. The drawing will commence at 9 A. M., and continue without intermission if possible until the whole number of prizes are drawn. It is expected that it will take twenty hours to complete the drawing, or until five o'clock Tuesday morning.

OPPOSING HIGH TOWAGE.—A combination having been formed in San Francisco by the owners of tow-boats to raise the price of towage on vessels to and from Vallejo, the Cal. P. R. R. put the propeller Vallejo on the line voluntarily, to break up the combination, which would have been very injurious to the latter port. A great deal has been and is said about railroad monopolies and their high rates of freight, passage, etc., and not without reason in many instances; but here we have a railroad company putting forth its strong arm to protect shippers and ship owners and indirectly farmers also, against outrageous charges for towage, by a combination of steamtug owners. For this the Company is deserving great credit, and we believe in giving the devil his due.

THE ISSUE DEFINED.

The great issue between the two political parties, that which to our mind overtops and surpasses all others in vital importance and magnitude, is and will be in the next State and National canvasses, whether this shall be a government of white men or whether it shall be given over to mongrelism,—admitting everything in the shape of man on an equality with the bearded, more noble and superior white race. The record and acts of the Republican party prove it to favor mongrelism in the broadest sense of that term, for by that party has been brought about negro suffrage and its sequence the right to hold office; and now, in "this enlightened age," we see the wooly-headed negro in the halls of Congress, in State offices, and in choice positions in the departments at Washington; to say nothing of his being forced into society by making it unlawful to exclude him from public assemblages and conveyances, from theaters, churches, street-cars, railways and steamboats. And woe be to the white man who now shall dare to oppose their perfect equality before the law. By negro votes is the Republican party now retained in power in several States of the Union, North as well as South. And in this latter fact we have the sequel to the original plan of the Republicans of giving the negroes their freedom. The object was with the leaders to create and secure the negro vote for the Republican party, as the sequel proves, notwithstanding their loud protestations to the contrary, previous to the issuing of the emancipation proclamation by Lincoln. The idea was then scouted by the Republican press of the country, and by this means the rank and file were appeased and wheedled into supporting the leaders, until, step by step, enough were won over to enable them to make a clean breach of the matter and endow sambo with the right to vote. On the other hand, the Democratic party has persistently opposed negro suffrage from the beginning; not only upon the ground of extreme ignorance, but with the lesson constantly before it of the condition of Mexico and every other country where there has been a general admixture of the black and white races—examples of constant anarchy, degradation and ruin—no enterprise in the people, no advancement in the arts and sciences, no enlightenment or culture among the inhabitants. But the opposition of the Democracy was unavailing, the odds against it was too great to be overcome, and the Radicals succeeded in conferring the unrestricted ballot upon the hordes of lately liberated slaves in all their debased and degraded ignorance. The question then is forced upon the people whether they will submit to be placed on the same footing with, and allow an equal voice in the government of the country to ignorant negroes, Chinamen, Indians, and for aught we know, every other description of human being. So in this the issue is clearly defined between the two great parties of the country—whether this Republic shall be managed by the Democratic or white man's party, or whether it shall be conducted on the mongrel plan by the Republican or negro party. We accept the issue and take up the glove thrown down by the Republicans. And we trust it will be generally so accepted by the Democracy. Let us fight it out on that line. Enough has transpired already to satisfy our mind as to the ultimate result. Let us hold them squarely to the issue the Republicans have forced upon us, and all will yet be well.

TROOPS FOR THE NEW YORK ELECTION.—It has been stated, and denied, that it is the intention of the Administration to send troops to New York City to be used at the polls on election day. New York is too Democratic to suit Grant and his followers, and hence it is said the voters are to be watched and overawed from voting; or if voting at all, their ballots must be for the Radical candidates. We do not believe the story, and for the credit of our country, hope it is not true. If such does turn out to be the case, and it is permitted by the people of that great State and metropolis, then farewell America's boasted freedom and the equality of her citizens. If the sacredness and secrecy of the ballot are interfered with and overthrown by the party which happens to be in power, good-bye Republican institutions and all that is dear to enlightened freemen. But we do not believe that even Grant and his unscrupulous co-workers dare thus interfere with the sacred rights of American freemen. In view of what would surely follow, we sincerely hope they will not, and that there is truth in the contradiction.

SAVED FROM DISGRACE.—Morton declines the British mission, giving as his reason that if he resigns his seat as Senator the Legislature of Indiana will elect a Democrat to succeed him. This is one good effect of the recent Democratic victory, as it will save our country from being disgraced by such a man as its representative abroad. It is bad enough to have to tolerate such as he at home, but how far worse would it be—how humiliating—to be represented by a man like Morton as our Minister in Great Britain.

NEVADA SCHOOL FAIR. — This fair commenced on the 27th and will continue throughout two weeks longer. A very large sale of tickets has been effected, but there are a few more left. These tickets afford a chance to become suddenly rich, if a person is so fortunate as to get the lucky numbers. Giles E. Sill is agent for this place and A. S. House for Cacheville and Buckeye, from either of whom tickets can be obtained at $2,50 each. The object of the fair is to aid the Nevada schools.

A Ride Through the Mountains.

EDITORS DEMOCRAT:—The following jottings of a recent ramble are at your disposal. Some of the items may be of interest:

All aboard for Vallejo and San Francisco! shouted the conductor of the Marysville and Woodland train. We stepped aboard the downward train at 7:20 A. M. Soon we were being whirled along o'er the golden autumnal fields of Yolo, building castles in imagination for the future; and dreaming o'er the past, so sad, so fresh, came flitting o'er our mind the lines of the immaculate Tennyson, that a stray tear would occasionally wind its way down our furrowed cheeks while pondering o'er the past.

"Tears, idle tears, I know not what they mean,
Tears from the depth of some divine despair
Rise in the heart, and gather to the eyes,
In looking on the happy Autumn fields,
And thinking of the days that are no more."

We were soon aroused from our revery by the brakeman shouting Davisville, change cars for Vallejo! Here a little laughable incident occurred. While we were being transferred from the Marysville to the Vallejo train, we were accosted by an elderly lady, and requested to find Billy. As the train was about to start off we had but a few minutes to search for the lost treasure, (or darling child as he may be termed). We rushed wildly through the passenger cars, hat in hand, yelling Billy! Billy! with all the breath a pair of good stout lungs could afford. Imagine our surprise on finding the cherub, a lad of fifteen summers, standing gaping at the engine. As we approached, he pointed to the piston and enquired why that darned thing didn't jump out o' there? The treasure was soon restored to his devoted mother. The engineer pulled the bell and we whizzed over Putah Creek, where lay stretched before us, as far as the eye could gaze, the broad fields of Solano. What a spectacle is here presented to our view! Only a few years back and these highly cultivated fields were vast untrodden plains, save by the thousands of horses and cattle that traversed them. To-day, behold the mighty iron horse as he comes snorting along at furious speed, exemplifying the rapid march of improvement in California. We now arrive at Vallejo, the great grain shipping center. Here parties desiring to visit San Francisco can step aboard the steamer New World, the finest that traverses our Western waters, and in two hours you are carried to the great metropolis of the Pacific Slope. At Vallejo we took the Napa Valley train and at 12:45 P. M arrived in Calistoga, having traversed a distance of ninety-six miles. We now began to feel grim hunger gnawing at our wearied carcass. We proceeded to the Calistoga Hotel and wrapped ourselves around a dinner par excellence. Dinner being over we next played President Grant, by indulging in a first-class cigar at the bar-keeper's expense. We now took a stroll around the springs. Calistoga may well be termed the Saratoga of California. These springs are situated at the head of Napa Valley, and forty-two miles from Vallejo. They are owned by Sam. Brannan, of San Francisco. The stage now being drawn up before the hotel, we had not time to look further at the springs, but found ourselves in a splendid six-horse coach, driven by Mr. Fisher, who, by the way, is an excellent horseman, courteous and polite to his patrons, willing to impart information to any who may ask it, and proprietor of the line of stages plying between Calistoga and Cloverdale. Six miles beyond the springs we pass through Knight's Valley. Here is beauty in the face of nature for the traveler to gaze upon. With the Valley spread out before you like a great green garden lawn, the creek, a tiny little stream, gurgles forth from its grand old mother St. Helena. Its crystal waters, after meandering their serpentine way down the valley, unite with Russian river, thence flow into the mighty old Pacific, whose waters know no bounds. Overlooking the valley on the east, stands that gray old sentinel, Mt. St. Helena, who has kept watch from time immemorial, and will continue in his assiduous task until this earth shall be swept into oblivion. We pass from here to Healdsburg, the leading inland town of Sonoma county. Only stopping here to change horses we had not time to look about the town or surrounding country. An hour and a half's drive brought us to Cloverdale, a cozy little town pleasantly located at the head of Russian River Valley. It now being late in the afternoon and having traveled a distance of 135 miles since morning, we put up for the night with mine host, Fred. Gerkhard, a true son of Germany, and an excellent landlord, who spreads the finest table and has the bests beds of any house up the coast. The truth of the assertion we can attest. Betimes the next morning we were toiling our way up the mountain that divides the waters of Russian and Nevada rivers. For miles naught but rugged mountains greeted the eye, with here and there a rude mountain house, the home of some woodsman or shepherd. On descending the mountain you behold in the distance Ukiah Valley, so fascinating to the sight. We soon reached the town, which derives its name from the valley. Ukiah is the shire town of Mendocino, and I might add without exageration, the banner little town of the county. Her citizens are social, moral and intellectual. There are three churches and a Seminary her people may well feel proud of. Also a live Democratic newspaper, edited by Alex. Montgomery. A first-class hotel kept by Dr. Alban, where his guests may be either or both physiced and fed. After inflating our collapsed bodies at the Doctor's bountiful table, we procured saddle-horses and started for Eel river. Stopping for the night at Potter's Valley, it was our happy lot to attend a social party given by a worthy merchant of Pomo. At an early hour the music struck up by the violin. After a while supper was announced and we repaired to the yard, and there we found and did justice to an excellent meal spread upon a carpenter's bench, beneath the starry vault of Heaven. But the dance, supper, etc., were all good, and we soon retired to dreamland. CICERONE.

SHIPWRECK.—The reported loss of the steamship "Cambria," from New York to Glasgow, is confirmed. On the 20th an open boat was picked up off Lough Foyle on the north coast of Ireland, containing a living sailor and the corpse of a girl. The sailor states that the ship was wrecked on the 15th; he believes that he is the only survivor. All the officers, crew and passengers, about one hundred and fifty souls, are believed to be lost.

WHITE MEN, WILL YOU NOT PROTEST.—The Radical party is running the government machine with a high hand, and in the interest of negroes to the detriment of white men. The New York Day Book says: "By a late law of Congress, if a nigger is discharged from employment, he has only to say it is done on account of political opinions, and making complaint of the discharge before the United States Court, his employer may be fined and imprisoned under the provisions of what is known as the "Enforcement Act." But a white man may be discharged in consequence of his way of voting, and he can look further for work or die of starvation. White men, the time is coming, and it is no further off than November, 1872, when you can make your legal protests against such an outrage as the passage of that law, and you can at the same time, with the same protest, wipe out a thousand other abominations, political and social, which have been fastened upon you by the Mongrel ruling power and its debauched and infamous creatures who make up its Congress. Your protests will be your votes at the ballot-boxes, on that eventful third day of November. You will not omit to do this. The hand-writing on the wall says you will not."

EIGHTEENTH VOLUME.—The Butte Record has entered upon its 18th volume, and we trust will see several more eighteens under its present efficient management. It bears evidence of industry and prosperity, and is, what all interior papers ought to be, a well conducted local paper, besides containing a well selected compendium of general news.

That there is absolutely no forfeiture in this Company these examples, furnish sufficient proof:

A. C. E. Miller, of Portland, Oregon, insured under Policy No. 13,054, for $5,000, died over six months after the premium was due and unpaid. The $5,000 was promptly paid the widow, less the unpaid premium.

J. W. Jones, of Colusa, Cal., insured under Policy No. 31,016, for $10,000, died over four months after the premium was due and unpaid. The $10,000 was promptly paid the widow, less the unpaid premium.

Is it not an object for you to insure in a Company where your policy is protected by such a wise and equitable law?

☞ This Company is not restricted to investing its funds in Massachusetts. The funds are invested in the best securities, where the largest interest is obtainable. Thus it has been enabled to return as dividends to the policy holders, in cash, during the last four years, $2,466,100 00. Dividends payable annually in cash.

TO PHYSICIANS.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15th, 1868.

Allow me to call your attention to my PREPARATION OF COMPOUND EXTRACT BUCHU. The component parts are BUCHU, LONG LEAF, CUBEBS, JUNIPER BERRIES.

MODE OF PREPARATION.—Buchu, in vacuo. Juniper Berries, by distillation, to form a fine gin. Cubebs extracted by placement with spirits obtained from Juniper Berries; very little sugar is used, and a small portion of spirits. It is more palatable than any now in use.

Buchu, as prepared by Druggists, is of a dark color. It is a plant that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this (its active principle), leaving a dark and glutinous decoction. Mine is the color of ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation predominates; the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection, it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made in Pharmacopœa, nor is it a Syrup—and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflammation exist. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of praparation.

Hoping that you will favor it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation,

With a feeling of confidence,

H. T. HELMBOLD,
Chemist and Druggist of 16 Years' Experience.

[From the largest Manufacturing Chemists in the World.]

NOVEMBER 4, 1854.

"I am acquainted with Mr. H. T. Helmbold; he occupied the Drug Store opposite my residence, and was successful in conducting the business where others had not been equally so before him. I have been favorably impressed with his character and enterprise."

WILLIAM WEIGHTMAN,
Firm of Powers & Weightman, Manufacturing Chemist, Ninth and Brown Sts., Philadelphia.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, for weakness arising from indiscretion. The exhausted powers of Nature which are accompanied by so many alarming symptoms, among which will be found, Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Memory, Wakefulness. Horror of Disease, or Forbodings of Evil; in fact, Universal Lassitude, Prostration, and Inability to enter into the enjoyments of society.

The constitution, once affected with organic Weakness, requires the aid of Medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or Insanity ensues.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT OF BUCHU, in affections peculiar to Females, is unequalled by any other preparation, as in Chlorosis, or Retention, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrus State of the Uterus, and all complaints incident to the sex, or the decline or change of life.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH will radically exterminate from the system diseases arising from habits of dissipation, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience or exposure; completely superseding those unpleasant dangerous remedies, Copaiva and Mercury, in all these diseases.

Use HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU in all diseases of these organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and odor, "immediate" in action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron.

Those suffering from broken-down or delicate constitutions, procure the remedy at once.

The reader must be aware that, however slight may be the attack of the above diseases, it is certain to affect the bodily and mental powers.

All the above diseases require the aid of a Diuretic. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic.

Sold by Druggists and Dealers everywhere. Price $1 25 per bottle, or six bottles for $6 50. Delivered to any address. Describe syptoms in all communications. Address H. T. HELMBOLD., Drug and Chemical Warehouse, 594 Broadway, N. Y.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

PAIN-KILLER PERRY DAVIS'S CELEBRATED PREPARATION

1840 1870

This celebrated medicine has won a deservedly high reputation as an alleviator of pain and a preserver of health. It has become a household remedy, from the fact that it gives immediate and permanent relief. It is a purely vegetable preparation, made from the best and purest materials, safe to keep and to use in every family. It is recommended by physicians and persons of all classes, and to-day, after a public trial of thirty years—the average life of man—it stands unrivalled and unexcelled, spreading its usefulness over the wide world. Its large and increasing sale affords positive evidence of its enduring fame. We do not deem it necessary to say much in its favor, as one small bottle will do more to convince you of its efficacy than all the advertisements in the world. Give it one fair trial and you would not be without it for ten times its cost.

Directions accompany each bottle.

Sold by all Druggists.

Price 25 cts., 50 cts and $1 per bottle. oc22ml

THE NEW FOOD.

For a few cents you can buy of your Grocer or Druggist a package of SEA MOSS FARINE made from pure Irish Moss or Carrageen, which will make sixteen quarts of Blanc Mange, and a like quantity of Puddings Custards, Creams, Charlotte Russe, &c. It is the cheapest, healthiest and most delicious food in the world. It makes a splendid Dessert, and has no equal as a light and delicate food for Invalids and Children.

A Glorious Charge!!

THE GREAT WORLD'S TONIC.

Plantation Bitters.

This wonderful vegetable restorative is the sheet-anchor of the feeble and debilitated. As a tonic and cordial for the aged and languid, it has no equal among stomachics. As a remedy for the nervous weakness to which women are especially subject, it is superseding every other stimulant. In all climates, tropical, temperate, or frigid, it acts as a specific in every species of disorder which undermines the bodily strength and breaks down the animal spirits. For sale by all druggists.

Town and County Matters.

WHAT FISHER'S ADVERTISERS' GUIDE SAYS OF WOODLAND.—We have from time to time given information regarding our thriving healthy and beautiful town and its surroundings. The following notice we find in Fisher's Advertisers' Guide, just issued in San Francisco:

"Woodland is a prosperous farming town of about 2,000 inhabitants, three miles west of Cache Creek, in Yolo, of which it is the county seat. The site is well chosen, amid a scattered growth of oak timber, in the midst of an extensive plain, in one of the best farming counties in the State. The business prospects of the town are excellent; all the houses are occupied; several fine brick buildings are just completed, and others are in course of construction. The California Pacific Railroad does an extensive business at this place. Large shipments of wood and live stock are made daily, and there is probably a million of bushels of wheat now (August) on the line of the railroad in this county awaiting shipment. The California Pacific Railroad connects Woodland with Sacramento, Vallejo and Marysville, and by a branch line it will soon be in direct communication with Colusa and Red Bluff. The public buildings include a fine court-house, three churches, a three-story brick college, and a theater. There are two good public schools, a prosperous boarding school for boys, a bank, with a capital of $200,000, a store-house for 3,000 tons of wheat, a grist mill, one of the best carriage and wagon manufactories to be found outside of large cities, two printing offices, each publishing a weekly newspaper, an extensive brick yard, several lumber yards, two hardware stores, four blacksmith shops, two saddlery shops, five dry goods stores, one clothing establishment, three boot and shoe manufactories, two tailor shops, three barber shops, two millinery establishments, three drug stores, three jewelry stores, two groceries, one bakery, three butcher shops, two fancy goods stores, three wholesale liquor stores, eleven drinking saloons, three livery stables, two restaurants and two hotels. Six medical practitioners, two dentists, and half-a-dozen lawyers are located at Woodland, and the Masons, Odd Fellows, Druids and Good Templars have each a lodge. The population of this strictly agricultural county is about 12,000, and steadily increasing. The grain product of 1869 was nearly a million bushels of wheat and 231,699 bushels of barley, the average yield of wheat being something over thirty bushels to the acre. The number of grape vines under cultivation during 1868 was 244,980, producing 21,310 gallons of wine and 6,261 gallons of brandy, According to the Assessor's returns for 1869, the real and personal property in the county is valued at $4,127,457. Grant received 935 votes at the Presidential election of 1868, and Seymour 1,061."

SUICIDE AT KNIGHT'S LANDING.—A man named Forbes committed suicide at Knight's Landing on Monday last by cutting his throat. He was prevented from succeeding in his first attempt, and the wounds inflicted were sewed up by a physician; but he was determined to shuffle off this mortal coil, apparently, for he deliberately tore open the wounds, and to make a sure job of it inflicted others more severe than the first, severing some of the arteries and a jugular vein. He died on the following day and was buried on Wednesday. The poor fellow was evidently insane, as it was known he had been feeling very gloomy over the death of an uncle, which occurred a short time before. We learn the deceased was a single man, and a shoemaker by trade.

WHEAT MARKET.—The market is still on the rise. On Wednesday California wheat was quoted at 11s. 1d. in Liverpool, the highest figure reached this year. Strangely enough this rise has affected the California market much more sensibly than that of New York, wheat having changed hands in San Francisco at $1 95, $2 00, and a lot of extra choice milling at $2 05 per cental. In New York the price at last accounts had not reached $1 80. F. S. Freeman reports the market in Woodland $1 85 to $1 90—arrivals rather light, the bulk of the crop having been disposed of.

EASTWARD HO!—Quite a number of residents of Woodland and vicinity have taken their departure for the East during the past week, most of them, however, only intending to make short visits to their former homes. Among them are G. M. Eaton and wife, R. H. Beamer, A. Patterson and family, the latter of whom we believe do not intend to return. The probability is, however, that one of those Eastern winters will drive them all back again.

COUNTY HOSPITAL.—The excellent care taken of the Hospital and its inmates by Mrs. Collins, the present matron, reflects great credit on that lady. Everything is neat and clean, and the food well cooked and palatable. With such a matron in charge and Dr. Peirson's administrations to the sick, the inmates all express their warmest approbation, and the Hospital, as now managed is a credit to the county.

RECLAMATION LEVEE.—Under the competent and thorough management of the contractor, J. M. Lemon, the construction of the levee is progressing satisfactorily. About a mile has been constructed, commencing at Knight's Landing; piles are being driven across Sycamore slough. Mr. Lemon is the contractor who built the levees of the Cal. P. R. R. and understands the work thoroughly.

COUNTY COURT.—Court met on Monday last to complete continued business, when the following cases were disposed of:

Fleishman & Kaufman vs. Freeman—Judgment of Court below affirmed with costs. Stay of execution granted for 30 days to allow defendant to prepare papers for new trial.

Doniphan vs. Kean—Case tried and submitted.

INSANE.—Wm. Smith, who resided a mile and a half west of Woodland, was brought into town yesterday morning by Sheriff Bullock and Deputy Lawson, on a charge of insanity. He was examined before Judge Johnson, by Drs. Mehring and Hunter, and declared to be insane, when his Honor sentenced him to the Insane Asylum at Stockton for treatment.

GRAND DRUID BALL.—The United Ancient Order of Druids announce a grand ball to come off in Washington Hall, Woodland, on Thanksgiving night. A Committee of Arrangements has been appointed, and we learn it is expected to be an extensive and grand affair. The order in Woodland numbers some seventy members.

FIREMEN'S BENEFIT.—The entertainment given by Mart Taylor last week did not enrich the company. After settling with Taylor there was $34 left. Out of that sum $24 25 had to be paid for expenses. This only left $9 75, which amount has been paid over to the treasurer.

ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS REWARD.—Read the advertisement in this paper offering $100 reward for the arrest and conviction of the miscreants who committed depredations on the Public School property a few nights ago.

IN JAIL.—There are now in the County Jail six persons—a larger number than have occupied it for some months past.

YOLO COUNTY CENSUS.—The Deputy Marshal, C. Y. Hammond, has furnished the Mail with the following statistics of population, productions, valuation of property, etc., of Yolo County:

"Cache Creek Township, population, 3,072; Fremont, 91; Grafton, 1,804; Washington, 816; Putah, 1,415; Buckeye, 800; Cottonwood, 1,331; Merritt, 480. Total population of Yolo county, 9,919. The above enumeration is classed as follows: White males, 5,778; white females, 3,593; male negroes, 44; female negroes, 24; male Chinese, 381; female Chinese, 1; male Indians, 73; female Indians, 24; males of foreign birth, 1,670; females of foreign birth, 451; number of dwelling houses, 2,913; voters, 3,248; farms, 1,616; horses, 9,168; mules, 1,313; milch cows, 3,738; other cattle, 8,381; sheep, 95,584; hogs, 17,731; value of live stock, $1,941,390; bushels of wheat produced in 1869, 2,107,836; bushels of barley produced in 1869, 476,339; tons of hay produced in 1869, 25,882; pounds of wool in 1869, 280,220; pounds of butter in 1869, 159,993; estimated value of real and personal property, $12,876,887; number of deaths for the year ending June 1st, 1870, ninety-four.

FOILED IN THE ATTEMPT.—Last Tuesday night a burglar attempted to enter the rear of the Post Office building by taking the door out, but the noise of the clumsy worker aroused the druggist, Mr. John Meister, who sleeps in the store, and who, being a very mild mannered man demanded to know, in mildest German accents what the man wanted. This of course was enough, and the would-be burglar, though he had not the fear of God before his eyes, very suddenly decamped, leaving tools, candle and sundry valuables in Meister's possession, principal of which was a valuable coat that had just been stolen from the mill.

IRISH DICK.—This individual took a dislike to an individual in Roberts' livery stable the other day and undertook to thrash him, for which indiscretion he was brought up before Justice Peterson and fined $20. Being "short," he is serving it out in the county jail at the rate of $2 a day.

WOODLAND WINERY.—J. W. Stotenberg has overhauled the Winery formerly owned and carried on by David Barnes, Esq., and is now manufacturing quite largely. Plenty of grapes are offering at the low price of $15 per ton.

GUBERNATORIAL.—The Republican papers are talking a good deal about who will be candidate for Governor of this State next year. We opine that it is a foregone conclusion that the present incumbent will be the candidate of the Democracy, and consequently the next Governor of California. It is extremely doubtful if there is a stronger man, or one better fitted for that position in the party, and we presume that if he will accept it, the nomination will be tendered him by the nominating convention next summer. We see no necessity of agitating this question so long before hand, but as the opposition well know that they cannot elect, they are determined to do what they can in talking about it.

A COMPARISON.—The Harrisburg, (Pa.), Patriot compares the expenses of Grant's administration with those of his Democratic predecessors. It gives the following table:

			Cost per
	Cost per annum.	Population.	capita.
Jackson's	$18,224,034 52	14,000,000	$1 16
Van Buren's	30,182,452 53	17,000,000	1 78
Polk's	39,835,715 33	21,000,000	1 75
Pierce's	53,014,055 78	27,000,000	1 96
Buchanan's	65,915,249 44	30,000,000	2 19
Grant's	190,796,355 09	40,000,000	4 76

SEEDS, PLANTS, ETC., BY MAIL.—The following are the rates by law to any part of the United States:

For all parcels of four ounces.....2 cents.
" " eight " .....4 "
" " sixteen " .....8 "
" four pound parcels .....32 "

No parcel to be above four pounds. All parcels should be carefully done up and sealed. An exchange of seed can be easily effected, and those who take the pains to do this will be profitably rewarded.

Ask any professor or graduate of any regular College of Pharmacy, ask any regular doctor, ask the physician of even Homeopathic persuasion, ask any druggist in the land, and they will all or any of them tell you that in some way they use Buchu as a curative agent for all diseases of the kidneys and urinating organs. Many of them will tell you that Helmbold's Fluid Extract is the best extract: while there are plenty of physicians who will acknowledge that they freely prescribe it for diseases as above mentioned. All these reasons, added to the fact that for nearly a quarter of a century has this remedy been on trial, and not found wanting, have succeeded in placing it at the head of the column of all proprietary medicines. Doctor H. T. Helmbold, besides being the most liberal advertiser in the world, has, at No. 594 Broadway, New York City, the best regulated, the largest and handsomest Drug Store in existence, and where our friends can be assured a kindly welcome from not only the excellent Doctor, but his gentlemanly employees.—St. Joseph Union.

☞ If your tongue is coated, mouth tastes badly, have a poor appetite, feel dull, stupid, despondent, sleepy or dizzy, your liver does not act properly, and nothing will relieve and cure you so speedily as Dr. Pierce's Alt. Ext. or Golden Medical discovery. It stimulates all the secretions to action, restores the appetite and unclogs the bowels. As a blood purifier for the cure of pimples and blotches on the face, Eruptions, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas and all scrofulous and skin diseases it is unequaled. No family should be without it. Sold by druggists.

MANY suffer rather than take nauseous medicine. All such, who suffer from coughs, colds, irritation of the bronchial tubes, and tendency to consumption, have in Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry a remedy as agreeable to the palate as effectual in removing disease.

MARRIED.

In Gordon Valley, October 27th, 1870, by Elder J. N. Pendegast, Livingston Phagan and Florella Jennings.

DIED.

In Woodland, Oct. 23d, 1870, Joseph Hooker, son of Emanuel and Elizabeth Berg, aged 6 years, 6 months and 17 days.

At Knight's Landing, October 23d, 1870, Geo. Wilson, infant son of James R. and Maggie McClintock, aged 5 months and 23 days.

In Woodland, October 20th, 1870, Alexander McLean, aged 23 years.

The deceased was a native of Nova Scotia. About a year and a half since he came to California. Though comparatively a stranger here, by his industry, honesty and steady habits, and also by his gentlemanly deportment, he had won the respect, confidence and esteem of all who knew him. During his sickness he was ministered to by the best medical aid that could be procured and by kind and careful nurses. His remains were decently interred in the Woodland Cemetery. His funeral was largely attended, and while the officiating minister spoke of his worth and of his sudden and early death, without a father's loving words to comfort him or a mother's gentle hand to smooth his dying pillow, nearly all present wept in sympathy. May he and the writer, with all that love the Savior, have a part in the first resurrection. P.

Proclamation of Thanksgiving.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Oct. 21.

The following document has been issued by the President of the United States.

WHEREAS, It behooves a people, sensible of their dependence on the Almighty, publicly and collectively to acknowledge their gratitude for his favors and mercy, and humbly beseech for their continuance; and, Whereas, the people of the United States, during the year now about to end, have cause to be thankful for general prosperity, abundant harvests, exemption from pestilence, foreign war and civil strife.

Now, therefore, be it known, that I, U. S. Grant, President of the United States, concurring in any recommendations from Chief Magistrates of States, do hereby recommend to all citizens to meet in their respective places of worship on Thursday, the 24th day of November next, to give thanks for the bounty of God during the year about to close, and to supplicate for a continuance hereafter.

In witness whereof, I have set my hand, and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. Done at the City of Washington, this 21st day of October, in the year of our Lord, 1870, and of the Independence of the United States the 95th. By the President:

U. S. GRANT.

HAMILTON FISH, Sec. of State.

REFUSED.—We see it stated that the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia has, on appeal, just decided the long pending case of Baker and others against the city of Washington, claiming the reward of $25,000 offered by the corporation for the apprehension of the assassins of Lincoln. The court has decided against the claimants, holding that the capture of Surratt and others was a matter of national and not of municipal concern, and that the Aldermen and Common Council of Washington had no power to tax the property owners and citizens of the District to pay the reward.

RICHARD THREFALL, of Stanislaus river, San Joaquin county, raised 46,000 sacks of wheat the past season. His samples exhibited at the State Fair were very good. The summer fallowed ground produced by far the most profitably. He has now 8,000 acres more summer fallowed.

A NEGRO boy has been arrested in New York and confined in the cold, cold cell of a jail for trying to kill a baby by pounding it on the head with a bottle. The baby had made up faces at the nigger, which no baby has a right to do since the Fifteenth Amendment became the law of the land.

IT is asserted that Napoleon has ten millions of francs secured on real estate through the agency of Brown Brothers, of New York. It is also reported that the defunct Emperor attempted to commit suicide at his prison home, in Prussia, and that the authorities endeavored to keep the matter a secret.

A LOUISVILLE grocer gave a man a gallon of whisky in place of vinegar, by mistake, when the man told of it to his neighbors, and the whole community rushed to the grocer with jugs after vinegar. The grocer didn't find out his mistake until the barrel was empty and half the men in the city were drunk.

JOHN JACKSON, of Good Ground, Suffolk county, is probably the oldest man in New York, being 115 years of age. He has a daughter living with him 65 years of age, and his eldest son died last year at over 80 years of age. His own wife died two years ago aged 99 years. Mr. Jackson was at work last week in the field, looking hale and hearty.

THE Vosges riflemen are all young men, accustomed from infancy to live in the mountains and use the gun. Their uniform is simple and elegant, consisting of a blouse in gray holland, tied around the waist by a black leather belt, trowsers of the same stuff, confined at the ankles by short buttoned gaiters, and a Tyrolese hat with cock's feathers.

THE new French coat of arms has made its appearance. It consists of a figure of Liberty, with the legend, "In the name of the French people." On the reverse is a garland of mixed oak and olive leaves, with a wheat ear in the centre. There is also the inscription, "Republic of France—Democratic, united and indivisible." Around the periphery are the words, "Liberte, Egalite, Fraternite."

CHINESE OUTRAGES.—London, October 18th. Advices from Hongkong to September 20th report that the Chinese in the city and province of Kiang had renewed their outrages upon foreigners within that district, but without inflicting loss of life. They encountered resistance which foiled their designs against the missionaries, who received anonymous angry warnings. The universal feeling among all classes of foreigners is that there is the greatest necessity for an armed protection.

THE German astronomers and physicists have, after prolonged observation, arrived at the conclusion that the moon is a dead planet—that is, that it has "cooled off," and is now without heat, water or atmosphere, and consequently without life of any kind. The earth is undergoing the same process, according to these learned philosophers, and will eventually be without life or light. But we who now live may take no fears to heart on that account, as the earth can cool off, say the geologists, only at the rate of fifteen degrees in nine million years.

AN effectual remedy for small-pox is said to have been recently found by a surgeon of the British Army in China. The mode of treatment is as follows:—When the preceding fever is at its hight, and just before the eruption appears, the chest is rubbed with croton oil and tartaric ointment. This causes the whole of the eruption to appear on that part of the body to the relief of the rest. It also secures a full and complete eruption, and thus prevents the disease from attacking the internal organs. This is now the established mode of treatment in the English army in China, and is regarded as a success.

IT is not often that the secular press is indorsed from the pulpit. But Rev. DeWitt Talmadge, in a recent address, used the following remarkable language: "I now declare that I consider the newspapers to be the grand agency by which the gospel is preached, ignorance is cast out, oppression dethroned, crime extirpated, the world raised, Heaven rejoiced and God glorified. In the clanking of the printing press, as the sheets fly out, I hear the voice of the Lord Almighty proclaiming to the nations of the earth, 'Lazarus, come forth!' and to the retiring surges of darkness, 'Let there be light.'"

WOMAN.

Females, owing to the peculiar and important relations which they sustain, their peculiar organization, and the offices they perform, are subject to many sufferings. Freedom from these contributes in no small degree to their happiness and welfare, for none can be happy who are ill. Not only so, but no one of these various female complaints can long be suffered to run on without involving the general health of the individual, and ere long producing permanent sickness and premature decline. Nor is it pleasant to consult a physician for the relief of these various delicate affections, and only upon the most urgent necessity will a true woman so sacrifice her greatest charm as to do this. The sex will then thank us for placing in their hands simple specifics which will be found efficacious in relieving and curing almost every one of those troublesome complaints peculiar to the sex.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT OF BUCHU.—Hundreds suffer on in silence, and hundreds of others apply vainly to druggists and doctors, who either merely tantalize them with the hope of a cure or apply remedies which make them worse. I would not wish to insert anything that would do injustice to the afflicted, but I am obliged to say that although it may be produced from excessive exhaustion of the powers of life, by laborious employment, unwholesome air or food, profuse menstration the use of tea and coffee, and frequent childbirth, it is far oftener caused by direct irritation applied to the vagina itself.

When reviewing the causes of these distressing complaints, it is most painful to contemplate the attendant evils consequent upon them. It is but simple justice to the subject to enumerate a few of the many additional causes which so largely affect the life, health, and happiness of woman in all classes of society, and which, consequently, affect more or less directly the welfare of the entire human family. The mania that exists for precocious education and marriage, causes the years that nature designed for corporeal development to be wasted and perverted in the restraints of dress, the early confinement of school, and especially in the unhealthy excitement of the ball-room. Thus, with the body half clothed and the mind unduly exercised by pleasure, perverting in midnight revel the hours designed by nature for sleep and rest, the work of destruction is half accomplished.

In consequence of this early strain upon her system, unnecessary effort is required by the delicate votary to retain her situation in school at a later day, thus aggravating the evil. When one excitement is over, another in prospective keeps the mind morbidly sensitive to impression, while the now constant restraint of fashionable dress, absolutely forbidding the exercise indispensable to the attainment and retention of organic health and strength; the exposure to night air; the sudden change of temperature; the complete prostration produced by excessive dancing, must of necessity produce their legitimate effect. At last, an early marriage caps the climax of misery, and the unfortunate one, hitherto utterly regardless of the plain dictates and remonstrances of her delicate nature, becomes an unwilling subject of medical treatment. This is but a truthful picture of the experience of thousands of our young women.

Long before the ability to exercise the functions of the generative organs, they require an education of their peculiar nervous system, composed of what is called the tissue, which is, in common with the female breast and lips, evidently under the control of mental emotions and associations at an early period of life; and as we shall subsequently see, these emotions, when excessive, lead, long before puberty, to habits which sap the very life of their victims ere nature has self-completed their development.

For female weakness and debility, whites or leucorrhea, too profuse menstruation, exhaustion, too long continued periods, for prolapsus and bearing down, or prolapsus uteri, we offer the most perfect specific known—HELMBOLD'S COMPOUND EXTRACT OF BUCHU. Directions for use, diet, and advice accompany.

Females in every period of life, from infancy to extreme old age, will find it a remedy to aid nature in the discharge of its functions. Strength is the glory of manhood and womanhood. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron, infinitely safer and more pleasant. HEMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU, having received the indorsement of the most prominent Physicians in the United States, is now offered to afflicted humanity as a certain cure for the following diseases and symptoms, from whatever cause originating: General Debility, Mental and Physical Depression, Imbecility, Determination of Blood to the Head, Confused Ideas, Hysteria, General Irritability, Restlessness and Sleeplessness at night. Absence of Muscular Efficiency. Loss of Appetite. Dyspepsia, Emaciation, Low Spirits, Disorganization or Paralysis of the Organs of Generation, Palpitation of the Heart, and, in fact, all the concomitants of a Nervous and Debilitated state of the system. To insure the genuine, cut this out. Ask for HEMBOLD'S. Take no other. Sold by Druggists and Dealers everywhere. Price $1 25 per bottle, or six bottles for $6 50. Delivered to any address. Describe syptoms in all communications. Address H. T. HELMBOLD., Drug and Chemical Warehouse, 594 Broadway, N. Y.

DR. PIERCE'S ALT. EXT. OR GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

This is the most thorough blood purifier yet discovered, and CURES ALL HUMORS, from the worst scrofula to a common eruption. Pimples and blotches on the face, and scaly or rough skin, which are such annoying blemishes to many young persons, yield to the use of a few bottles of this wonderful medicine. From one to eight bottles cure salt rheum, erysipelas, scald head, ringworms, boils, scaly eruptions of the skin, scrofula sores, ulcers and canker in the mouth and stomach. It is a pure medicinal extract of native roots and plants, combining, in harmony nature's most sovereign curative properties, which God has instilled into the vegetable kingdom for healing the sick. It is a great restorer for the strength and vigor of the system. Those who are languid, sleepless, have nervous apprehensions or fears, or any of the affections symptomatic of weakness, will find convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial. If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated and despondent, have frequent headache, mouth tastes badly in the morning, irregular appetite and tongue coated, you are suffering from torpid liver or "billiousness." In many cases of "liver complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy. For the cure of habitual constipation of the bowels it is a never failing remedy, and those who have used it for this purpose are loud in its praise. In bronchial, throat and lung diseases it has produced many remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed. Sold by druggists at $1.00 per bottle. Prepared at the Chemical Laboratory of

EVERY FAMILY SHOULD HAVE IT.

Dr. Guilmette's

Extract of Juniper.

As a delicious tonic, healthful and curative for all diseases of the kidneys and bladder, loss of appetite, dyspepsia, nervous debility, etc., it is unrivalled. To females it is especially recommended for all irregularities of the menses and disorders peculiar to their system, as it can be used with perfect safety. In malarious districts it is a great preventive of fever and ague. R. H. McDONALD & CO. Agents, cor. of Pine and Sansome sts., San Francisco [o15-1y

W. H. L. BARNES, Vice President.
WM. C. RALSTON, Treasurer.

After paying the expenses of the entertainment, and making the distribution of the Gifts, as above announced, the balance will be applied to extinguishing the present indebtedness of the Mercantile Library Association.

Holders of tickets to which gifts may be awarded, will receive the same on presentation of such tickets or coupons to the Business Agents of the Board of Trustees at their office, No. 218 California Street, San Francisco.

NOTICE.

HOLDERS OF TICKETS to the GIFT CONCERT in aid of the Mercantile Library Association are hereby notified that the Concert is postponed until Monday, October 31st, 1870.

Unexpected interferences have operated to make this delay necessary to accomplish the result of freeing the Library from debt, without recourse to other privileges granted by act of the Legislature, passed February 19, 1870.

This is positively the only postponement which will be made. The Concert will take place on the day above named, commencing at 9 o'clock A. M., and to continue until all the gifts have been awarded.

The funds already in bank are considerably more than sufficient to insure the successful completion of the contract with the public.

The sale of tickets will positively close on Friday, the 28th day of October, 1870.

All tickets remaining unsold at that time will be withdrawn from sale and cancelled. They will be advertised by their numbers on the 29th day of October, 1870, in one or more of the daily papers of this city. Any diminution thus made in the number of tickets to be drawn will not affect the number or amount of gifts. They will be as heretofore advertised, to wit: 628 gifts, amounting in all to $500,000 gold.

Ticket-holders residing out of San Francisco will receive duly accredited lists of the awards of Gifts, which will also be published in the leading San Francisco daily papers, on the 1st of November, 1870.

Delivery of gifts will commence November 2d, 1870, at the Office, No. 318 California street, to all parties presenting tickets to which Gifts have been awarded. All gifts awarded to non-residents will be held to their order and for their account.

FLORENCE SEWING MACHINES!

The FLORENCE has now been used on the Pacific Coast seven years; its merits are known and its reputation established.

It is here in daily use in more than six thousand homes, and is effectually speaking for itself like

"Gold Tried in the Fire!"

Competition and opposition—fair and unfair, have not consumed or injured it. It stands the practical test upon a greater range of work than any other Family Sewing Machine in use.

If there is a Florence Machine within one thousand miles of San Francisco not giving entire satisfaction, if informed of it, I will attend to it promptly, without expense of any kind to the owner.

Shoemakers, Tailors and Glove makers are invited to examine our New Florence Manufacturing Machine.
